Now Loved

Stepping in for Exelpet who had a family bereavement

Eddie Kornhauser Recreation Reserve – Northern NSW

Eddie Kornhauser

Eddie Kornhauser (7 September 1918 – 7 February 2006) was one of the most prolific property developers on the Queensland Gold Coast. He was born in Kraków, Poland in 1918, but his Jewish family moved to Berlin, Germany when he was still a toddler. The family fled Nazi Germany in the late 1930s and Kornhauser and his brother Jack migrated to Australia and settled in Melbourne.

The brothers started a fur trading business called Arctic Furs^{[1][2]} and expanded to Sydney where Kornhauser became interested in property development. He built Kay House, the first inner city, post-war high rise and he also pioneered the planning of the Menzies Hotel in Sydney and built five Melbourne suburban hotels.

Kornhauser moved to the Gold Coast in the early 1970s where he formed the HSP Property Group and began making his mark on the Gold Coast skyline. His best known project was the Paradise Centre in Surfers Paradise, which was built on the site of the original Surfers Paradise hotel.

During the 1980s he had close links with the 'developer friendly' Sir Joh Bjelke-Petersen government in Queensland, coming under scrutiny from the opposition and being accused in state parliament of money laundering. He was particularly close to the late Russ Hinze; and allegations that he paid money to Hinze family companies in return for corrupt business favours led to three formal corruption charges. In 1991 Kornhauser was acquitted of all charges after an eight-week trial in the Queensland District Court.

According to the 2005 Business Review Weekly rich list, Kornhauser had an estimated fortune of $345 million.

Now Loved stepped in with little notice and with Hierachy help produced a great Run and On On.

The Run was set through the Reserve and its many paths and around a lake which solves flooding issues in the area. Anyone who left their insect repellent at home met up with millions of midges and the odd hundred thousand mosquitoes. However they did not bother us back at the On On.

SkyHook and his team put on the usual great bucket and very soon the remarkable KB with his able assistant Sir Rabbit were sub contracting the Nosh. No plate necessary – that was included in the price, but lashings of Italian style veg to accompany filet steak. The final touch was Rabbit's artistry with the gravy most of which ended up on the table but not before he had circled the plates and filled the Yorkshire Pudding Cups.

Below is the result prior to the Pack descending on the Feast

The Pack retired to quietly enjoy the Feast until awoken by our GM calling Circle.

Run:

TWO STREET, a visitor from Melbourne Mens Hash, was brief with his comment – Enjoyed!

Walk:

CAUSTIC CRUSADER a returning Runner, was also brief – Pedestrian!

Nosh:

SIR JO, no complaints, bloody lovely, 10/10!

Note: This will be hard to top for Nosh of the Year.

Visitors and RR were grouped and included:

PIZZA, CAUSTIC, MISCARRTIAGE, TWO STREET.

DOWN DOWNS went to:

2 DOGS for going up the middle of the DOG Training Area

SIR RABBIT for his Gravy Artistry

2KY for interjections – he refrained from taking his – still learning the Culture.

MAD MIKE told us about the weekend Car Rally, thanked all his helpers, and crowned S BENDS as winner. Maybe Mrs S BENDS was also involved. This has become a great event and many of the competitors have already booked accommodation for 19th February 2021

ARSENIC was also called in for a drink in appreciation of his great effort to produce a great Casino Night.

The GM brought up a request for a donation to a Hash Bushfire Appeal. Rover, ex Larrikan, who died in the Fires was mentioned and after discussion we are donating $500.

Our mate ROCKHARD is doing it tough and we sang him an inspiartional song to the tune of ROCKY. Stay strong old mate.

MAGICIAN medivaced out of Europe with a broken shoulder from a skiing spill. He has had it re-constructed here at Greenslopes Hospital and is home but struggling with pain and constipation from the medication. Just spoke to him and he still has his sense of humour. Give him a call.

To complete the evening BALLBAG stumbled through a Ditty about a codger who fell down the toilet.

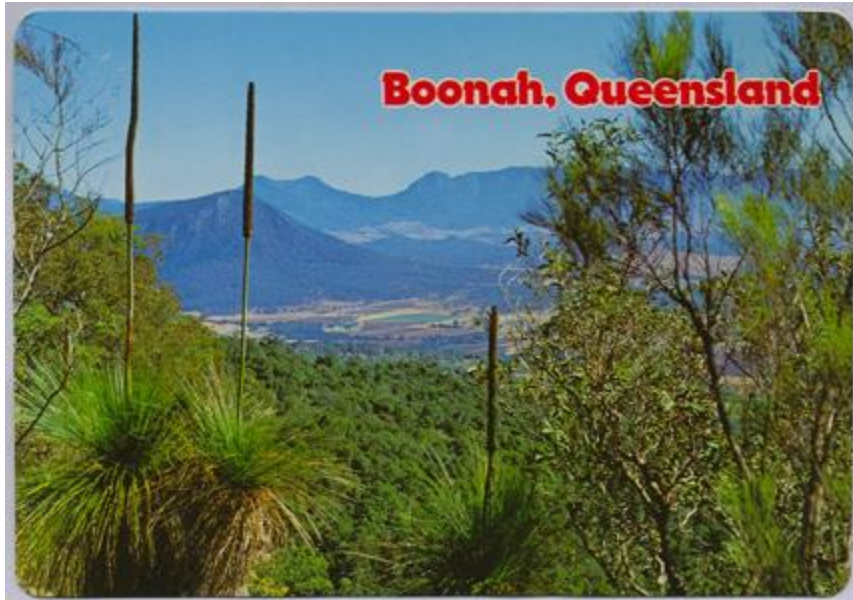

No End of Circle was evident.

Nerang Skate Park

Bring your skates and chedck website.

Boonah, a rural town, is 70 km south-west of Brisbane. To its south and west are the scenic rim of mountain ranges and Cunninghams Gap. The scenery has been characterised as 'Switzerland without the snow'.

First known as Blumbergville (after the Blumberg Brothers' stores opened in 1882) and Dugandan, the town was named Boonah in 1887 when the railway station was opened. It is thought that the name was derived from an Aboriginal word describing the bloodwood tree or a brigalow-type acacia.

The town began near the boundary between two pastoral runs, Duganden and Coochin Coochin, which were taken up in 1844. Closer-settlement farm selections in the Boonah district began in the early 1870s. A notable but slightly later example was a German settlement at Templin, 3 km north-west of Boonah, which has become an historical village preserved by the Fassifern District Historical Society (Boonah).

By the late 1880s Boonah's importance was evident. There was a Lutheran church (1882, at nearby Hoya), a Catholic church (1887) and a Methodist church (1883, at nearby Durangan). The Goolman local government division's offices were moved from Flinders to Boonah in 1888, the year after extension of the railway from Ipswich. By the year of federation Boonah had a hospital (1900), an Anglican church, a Salvation Army chapel and a Church of Christ. The Fassifern Butter Factory opened in 1901 (running until 1974) and the Fassifern and Duganden Pastoral Association held its first show at Boonah in 1898. The Butter Factory's period of operation witnessed the changing land uses: from scrub clearing and maize crops to dairying and pigs, and to the replacement of dairying by irrigated horticulture, particularly potatoes. Fodder cropping was significant, especially during the dairy era.

CORONAVIRUS

ADD THIS TO MAD MIKE'S TIMELY INFORMATION ON THE SAME ISSUE.

REMEMBER – IT HAS COME AS CLOSE AS AUSTRALIA FAIR.

[From a Hash Mate in Sydney]

Last evening dining out with friends, one of their uncles, who's graduated with a master's degree and who worked in Shenzhen Hospital (Guangdong Province, China) sent him the following notes on Coronavirus for guidance:

1. If you have a runny nose and sputum, you have a common cold
2. Coronavirus pneumonia is a dry cough with no runny nose.
3. This new virus is not heat-resistant and will be killed by a temperature of just 26/27 degrees. It hates the Sun.
4. If someone sneezes with it, it takes about 10 feet before it drops to the ground and is no longer airborne.
5. If it drops on a metal surface it will live for at least 12 hours - so if you come into contact with any metal surface - wash your hands as soon as you can with a bacterial soap.
6. On fabric it can survive for 6-12 hours. normal laundry detergent will kill it.
7. Drinking warm water is effective for all viruses. Try not to drink liquids with ice.
8. Wash your hands frequently as the virus can only live on your hands for 5-10 minutes, but - a lot can happen during that time - you can rub your eyes, pick your nose unwittingly and so on.
9. You should also gargle as a prevention. A simple solution of salt in warm water will suffice.
10. Can't emphasise enough - drink plenty of water!

THE SYMPTOMS

1. It will first infect the throat, so you'll have a sore throat lasting 3/4 days
2. The virus then blends into a nasal fluid that enters the trachea and then the lungs, causing pneumonia. This takes about 5/6 days further.
3. With the pneumonia comes high fever and difficulty in breathing.
4. The nasal congestion is not like the normal kind. You feel like you're drowning. It's imperative you then seek immediate attention.
