

Last week's Scribe is this week's hare!

Circumference

So versatile!

But there was more to come!

We gathered in the gloom of a dark night in a deserted and unlit carpark about 400m down a long and winding drive from Musgrave St. There we suddenly understood we were at the right venue as TRUCKIE TRAILER was shining through the gloom. But that was not really the place. We then walked up another winding road - Alice in Wonderland anyone? This opened out onto a magnificent and secluded park like area that we did not even know we had paid for during the Commonwealth Games build up. The Hare had truly worked hard in discovering this venue. But there was more! GM Icemen called us together and we found that the Runners and Walkers were going in opposite directions. From there it got interesting. Would we all run headlong into each other at some point? Well, no, that did not happen. However it was surprising country and mostly well lit by our taxes.

The Walkers, led by NASTY SBENDS AND OTHERS walked past a massive modern art piece and through the CG Village peering in on the homes of rich Asian students until we completed a loop back the the art piece and on further before returning to a busy Hare preparing our first dinner course. The Runners pleased themselves and came in a little later. As usual the BoozeMasters were also busy with their wares including $1beers courtesy on SIR AH and his Birthday.

The food kept coming and there was a sudden quiet as all enjoyed then repast.

At 8.03 precisely the GM called Circle and 34 souls gathered to hear sermon 2177.

RUN: FOXTROT announced a score of 8.5/10 for a good combination of bush and streets in new territory.

WALK: NASTY liked the well marked loops and also scored 8.5

NOSH: SBENDS likened it to a symphony with fried bread, sausages, steak & salad, bacon? & a dessert of Fresh Strawberries, Strawberry Lamingtons and Cream. In all 7.5/10

Congratulations all round!

TRUCKIE for being ahead of time, HALAL, KB, TRUCKIE for cooking assistance

RA Sir Prince told a story about a cat named Donkey that was sexually assaulted and required Vet attention and stitches to live. He asked if any Hashman knew any more about this.

He then called in BALLBAG and PEPE as returning Runners. BALLBAG told a long winded story about the decades of his life and the various ladies that he met all of whom had various complications and phobias.

AH got two songs for his Birthday.

The GM took over again and made mention of his passion for the Micro Foundation which continues to do great work in third world areas

Legacy - The Sustainable Development Goals in Action' is available here in Kindle for US$6.96 and hard copy from Iceman at $25 or bookstores online.

RA SPV came back with a story about AUSSIE & MISSING LINK [who has been found] at a AFL function where they were looked after by MADEMOISELLE LATRINE. He managed to get them legless and there were three bottles of red left over.

BENT BANANA told about the Thirsty Hash where TRUCKIE game him his keys to mind and forgot he had. Next he was calling RACQ to have them open his car before BB reminded him.

MISSING LINK told us that the same Hashman had driven to Mermaid for coffee with his bike in the back. He had then ridden home and on arrival could not find his car.

SWOLLEN COLON showed off his new $35 haircut which earned him a Down Down for overspending for no result.

SHAT told SBENDS best school friend to Fuck OFF last Friday when he mistook him for SPV. Tut Tut!
It did earn him POW

POXY went to an OLD Bastards Lunch and turned up for Choir Practice at Schuck incapable of song.

NWR: FANNY CHARMER is taking us to Cascade Gardens. Expect Paella and lots of it.

The Hash Song Sing OFF will also take place with a shortened Circle.

BALLBAGS announced 'End of Circle' at 8.36

This area is part of Southport so no history.

However, here is one bright 5 year old -<http://biertijd.com/mediaplayer/?itemid=44336>
