

Gentlemen,

Running a Run Report Roster remotely is not without issues. This week as a result you are fortunate and have two Reports, not just the usual one.

It has opened an opportunity to have two different points of view on the same event.

How did it happen?

Well you will know that Circumference has been homeless and living on the beach at Coolongatta. His mobile battery had gone flat and he was not answering my calls.

However being the dedicated Hashman he saw that it was his turn on the Roster and hitchhiked up.

Nasty on the other hand was more than pleased to stand in and was well underway before he became aware of Circumference's great effort.

Technology has been an issue in getting all this together, but here it is.

Congratulations to both Scribes and please enjoy.

Ball Bags run report

Location- illegal logging site in Highland Park

We arrived at the top of Armstrong Way to be greeted by Ball Bags sitting like a derelict in the gutter, telling us to park up here because there is no room at the run start. After a short walk downhill we arrived at the house of the son of Ball Bags and met the family including Mrs Bags.

The run was introduced as being up the hill (you just came down) runners turn left and walkers turn right. Trail is in chalk and pink ribbon. It was interesting that the pink ribbon looked exactly the same as the ribbon surveyors use to mark out block boundaries, just like the one below with Survey pegs and no ribbon.

So the pack went to the top of the hill and the runners went left and the walkers right. So far so good

After about 100m Swollen Collen who was with the walkers so he did not spill his beer, declared that he was going to head back because his VB was almost empty. At that moment Cumsmoke who has just extinguished his cigarette called On On to the right down an easement. Other walkers were protesting that they were On because they had an arrow. Cum Smoke said "I'll take your one arrow and raise you 2 arrows because I have 3 and I'm going this way." Sure enough the easement lead to pink ribbons and Cum Smoke Nasty and Swollen were comfortable they were on trail. After seeing a kangaroo drop a condom on the trail Swollen commented, "so that's how they control the wildlife population here"

Shortly after we arrived at the base of the illegal logging site and ascended through the ground cover towards the house. Ball Bags appeared on the balcony "yelling fuck off you are going backward on the runners trail" or something like that. Despite the encouragement we found our way back to the bucket after a brisk 0.6km walk.

The outsourcing was in full swing, with son Paul at the Hash BBQ and his wife and Mrs Baggs buttering bread and tending the hot pots with a glass of wine in hand.

At 6.58pm Ball Bags put out the snacks of sweet potato and vegan bacon and said “oh no they should be back by now, they go up a big big hill, they go up up up and they will come back crying”. At 7.09 all the bacon was gone and the first of the runners returned. Wonder why the food is always in front of Cum Smoke.

At 7.14 most of the snacks were gone and the first of the walkers returned. At 7.29 Ball Point returned all alone and miserable, ready to deliver a scathing run report.

Nosh was served and Mrs Bags did a great job with the apricot chicken, and the chicken in white wine sauce hot pots, accompanied by boiled potato, bread, coleslaw and spaghetti with a Bolognese sauce. The main was followed by fresh strawberries and Coffs Harbor bananas, with two ice cream flavors and pavlova or chocolate slices.

At 8.16, using the sound of the strangled chook the GM called the circle and invited Ball Bags to face the feedback from the pack.

The houses surrounding the end of the culdersac were like grand stands in an arena with curious neighbors looking on.

Sir Jo said the walk was absolutely great for the first 2klm section downhill. At the first check things did not look so great. Slab sent Blacky down the hill to check for the trail and he returned reporting there was not trail and the walkers turned to the hill to follow the runners trail home. Realizing that the walkers were heading away from home, Slug pulled out his GPS and guided the walkers into a fence line which prevented any short cutting. Sir Jo said that it was a 55 minute 3.62 k walk and despite being on the runners trail for the steep hill home leg, gave it a 9/10

Ball Point gave the run report and proceeded with a barrage of profanities until the GM asked him to keep it down and stop swearing. Ball Point now on his best behavior proceeded only using profanities every second or third word! He abused Y2K2 Jelly for his departure from the pack and late return. Everyone on the run was a "clown" and could not follow a trail, and the report was all about Ball Point's frustration. Surprisingly he said it was not as good as his run but because it had mostly bush he gave it a "Fucking" 7.5/10

A woman from across the road, named Kerry appeared in the circle holding a small horn. She was a hasher from a town 450 Klm north of Kalgoorlie. Her Dad is a passed Hash man and he gave her the small Hash Horn before he died. Kerry played a note on the horn and donated it to our hash, saying her dad Bill would be so proud to see the horn back in a Hash club.

Sir Cumference gave the Nosh report recognizing the cast of 1000's who supported the outsourced Nosh, and all 5 cooks and helpers had down downs

GM gave a Casino Night report and awarded best dressed to Blackie for his western theme and special mention to Fox Trot and Mrs Fox Trot for their poker card printed clothing and Bling. Ball Point turned up as a Las Vegas Pimp.

Sir Cumference shared his tale of woe which caused the evacuation of his home due to construction workers not reading the instructions for new plastic pillar technology. He engaged the expertise of Hard On and Sir Prince to expose the cause of the problem. Apparently the plastic cavities are supposed to be filled with cement as well as reinforcing steel. Resident retaining wall expert Truck Tyres was quick to investigate the plastic block and agreed.

Sir Prince shared that Shat will have a new scar to show us next week.

Miscarriage was charged with over educating himself by attending course “ how to make money from real estate”.

Sir Prince shared a story of the first John Fitzgerald Realestate seminar Miscarriage to him to 20 years ago on a couples ticket. Miscarriage give the condom to Sir Prince.

Sir Prince also mentioned that we might be short a few hashers next week because Phantom was taking 5 hashers to a shooting gallery.

GM mentioned the need to find a new trailer master ... even if the trailer is shared. There's an incentive of $200 towards a tow bar for anyone interested.

GM announced that his foundation had raised $500k for Sth African business women and business was booming.

After a groan response to Ball Bags joke about Corona virus made in China the circle was closed at 8.53

And now...

Circumference

Any hasher who regularly unloads on fellow hashers with machine gun like verbal criticism of their runs/walks leaves themselves open to payback bigtime when it comes time for their turn to be judged on a Monday night. So the hare, Ball Bags, knowing his event was on a hiding to nothing had to basically set the run of the year and have it judged as a penthouse or otherwise it would be considered to be an outhouse. Highland Park was the venue and hashers knew after that the run off from the recent big wet, it could turn the event into a shiggy mess in the local parks or be a mountain goat trek up and down the hilly neighbourhood.

MEDIA WATCH

From the Chatroom section of the GC Bulletin, on New Year's Day -

So a transgender man gave birth to his non-binary partner's baby using sperm donated by a transgender woman. No matter how many times I read that I can't get my head around it. (Sent in by CONFUSED of Broadbeach).

And to think that our Truck Tyres had trouble getting his head around what all the letters in the LGBTIQ acronym stood for.

From the Courier Mail, on the day after Australia Day -

The only thing I've learnt this Australia Day is that a lot of my mates are shit at cricket. (A Tweet from someone who goes by the name of The Grade Cricketer)

From the Courier Mail last Saturday.

Congratulations to the Kansas City chiefs on a great game(NFL), you represented the Great State of Kansas and in fact, the entire USA, so very well.

Unfortunately in this Tweet from President Donald Trump, Kansas City is in the State of Missouri, not Kansas. It seems the President had no problems with locating Ukraine but struggles with his USA geography.

It was good to see the World Health Organization doing a rethink and renaming the current world wide virus, instead of using previously the names of longtime favourite beverages like SARS and CORONA. No doubt the manufacturers of those beverages are very relieved as well.

Finally , just on that note, hashers should be careful when opening an e mail circulating from Chinese hashers, who are trying to off load cheap registrations for Inter Hash 2020 in Trinidad , as it may contain a virus.
